

Well Dressed

People judge other people by their clothes. It may be wrong, probably in some cases. It is every woman's right to be well dressed. It is every woman's right to be as well dressed as she can be. If she can't feel that she is properly clothed she can't be comfortable; can't enjoy herself, or take her proper part in the affairs of life

How.

The problem is, how to be well dressed on little money. The first thing is to find the right store to buy from. Money is only good for what it will buy. It is worth most where it will buy most.

Where.

We don't believe there's a better place in America for Liverpool ladies to buy goods than right in our store. In buying and selling we have the interest of our patrons in mind, as well as our own, and we try to gain trade by deserving it.

When.

Now's the time to begin to look about for fall and winter goods. There certainly never was a time that we had so good a stock, and prices so low. The new fall dress goods, cloaks and trimmings are all in stock awaiting your inspection at

A SKELETON WAS THERE

The Democratic Convention Like a Funeral.

NO WILD, ENTHUSIASTIC CHEERING

John H. Clark and Billy Maline Brought Their Mahoning Differences With Them, but Only the Presence of the Silver Haired Attorney Could Raise a Shout.

The congressional convention of the Democrats was the tamest political gathering seen in Stark county for many years.

For a time it seemed that there might be some contest on the nomination, and the few delegates who were interested enough to have a choice attempted to do some work and a few were polling for their man. But at no time was enough snap and vigor shown to nominate anyone except it be John H. Clark, the Youngstown attorney, who seems to have the Democrats of the district under his thumb. Until his train reached Alliance yesterday there was no word of praise for a candidate, and not a cheer had rent the heavy air. Enthusiasm was lacking, and some of the leaders looked as though they would have given many a dollar to have a well regulated body of enthusiasts in the crowd. But when Clark came all was changed; at least it was changed until after the first burst of welcome died away. When his handsome face appeared at the car there was a rush, and from there until the door of the hotel was reached his steps made the march of a triumph. Gray haired Democrats vied with younger members of the party in showing him honor, and had he but desired at that moment he would have been nominated before the convention organized. But he did not desire. Mr. Clark was there for some other purpose, and the convention proceeded to organize. When tendered the temporary chairmanship he refused, knowing that Attorney Taylor had already been spoken of in connection with the place, and this when he knew that Taylor was anxious to have him take it. But if Clark was there with a purpose, many others also had business with them, and they were the men who had come to see Calvin S. Brice endorsed, but they failed to count on the influence of the resolutions adopted in county conventions. Attorney Maline, of Youngstown, made a splendid speech for the junior senator, asserting that they all wanted the Wilson bill in preference to the compromise, and making it warm for a Democrat who attempted to sneer at Brice. He based his argument on the necessity of standing together, and going into this campaign to win, and not attempt its defeat by throwing fire brands into the party. When Maline had talked for a time John H. Clark was called, and did what was expected. He said they could not deceive the voters, else they turn and rend them, and he knew if Brice was not condemned there were many who would not go to the polls because the rank and file of the party desired it. There was applause when he finished his speech, and the resolutions were adopted, one solitary delegate voting against them. To the casual observer it seemed that the battle over Brice was for the express purpose of airing the enmity between Messrs. Maline and Clark, since both took so prominent a part. The argument waxed wroth, but the two wings of Mahoning's Democracy could not keep the battle going forever. The delegates were not so enthusiastic for the fray that they wanted the nominations to begin at once, but some of the more diplomatic members of the convention wanted the straining stopped, and the motion was put.

Long before the chairman called for nominating speeches it was known that only two candidates were in the field, and that Raff had a strong lead in his own county, with some members from Mahoning willing to fight for him if necessary. Early in the morning the Canton man wore a calm, complacent smile, and his friends were made of how many ballots it would require to settle the difference of opinion. There was little enthusiasm when the nominations were made, for it seemed that applause at that time would serve the self same purpose as a well developed skeleton at a fashionable feast. The delegates took it all as a mere matter of course, and seeing nothing to be gained by enthusiasm kept their shouts to themselves. As the nominating speeches had been restricted to five minute efforts there was no great breadth of oratory developed, although the speeches were in the same vein as all convention efforts. After the ballot was over, and Edward Raff was declared the nominee, there was more of a rush to catch the first train out of town than to stay and hear him accept. All seemed to realize that without any trouble whatever they had secured a candidate, and since he was not destined to occupy a front seat in the ranks of congress there was little use in making a great fuss about it. Some, however, remained, and heard what Mr. Raff and the defeated candidate had to say about it.

As one of the prominent Democrats present remarked to the News Review, "This is not the gathering of two years ago, and there will not be the enthusiastic Democrats we had at that time." He might have remarked that if any convention was as void of enthusiasm as was this, the candidate would not only stand little chance of gaining outside support, but would have his hands filled with trouble keeping his friends in line. Over all the gathering seemed to hang the depressed condition of business, and what little enthusiasm could be found was forced and unnatural.

A LOAD OF HAY.

It Was Rather Bulky But Constable Lyons Attached It.

There was genuine fun the other day when George W. Poe, a West Virginia farmer, came to town on a load of hay.

Poe had for some time owed Robert Hall a little bill of $28.98 and endurance ceased to be a virtue, it seemed. Accordingly Mr. Hall awaited a chance to catch Poe napping. When Poe arrived with the hay he knew all about it, and in less time than it takes to tell the story he had an attachment issued from Squire Travis' court. Constable Lyons proceeded to the Thompson pottery where he found the hay being weighed. He took charge of horses, wagon and all. Poe fretted and fumed, threatened and plead, but all in vain. The constable knew his business and was there to do it. Poe had a companion and he seemed the maddest man of the two. Finally by dint of hard work Poe secured from different parties $37, which paid the bill and costs. He told the squire that he was going down and throw the constable in the river, but at last accounts Constable Lyons was enjoying good health and had no intention of submitting to a bath. Meanwhile Poe is telling his friends that East Liverpool is inhabited by thieves.

SIX THOUSAND.

That Many Dollars Decided a Necessary Loan by Council.

All the members of council were present at the special meeting last night and it did not take long for the city fathers to get through with their business. A resolution was passed authorizing the city to negotiate a loan of $6,000 for the paving of Third street and Sheridan avenue. The contract can now be let at the next meeting as the loan will undoubtedly be made by that time.

The representative of the street sweeper manufacturers, who was at a recent meeting of council, returned yesterday and was present at the special meeting, and after an adjournment had been made the councilmen talked over the matter of purchasing a sweeper from him. Nothing definite was done but it will probably be brought up at the next meeting.

Thought to Be Murdered.

The Beaver Star says that William Rheinheimer, who is thought here to have been killed by a train, was possibly murdered. According to the Beaver paper the engineer of the train saw a body on the track, and attempted to stop but was prevented by the heavy train pushing the engine forward. As many robberies have been committed in that vicinity recently, and the victim was believed to have a hundred dollars in his pocket, the robbery theory has some supporters in Beaver.

Known in England.

The Liverpool Mercury, Liverpool, Eng., contained a statement the other day to the effect that the News Review had been instrumental in finding a man whose address was requested on the other side of the water. This is another proof that the News Review is read by people who understand what they read.

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE

Must Be Good Sauce For the Gander,

ACCORDING TO JOHN RINEHART

If the Health Authorities Prosecute Him For Polluting the River He Will Antagonize the Board by Suing the Man Who Uses It as a Receptacle For Night Soil.

John Rinehart, who is to answer to Mayor Gilbert because he threw a dead horse into the river, promises to bring a counter suit against the board of health through a charge based on the same principle.

Rinehart could not attend the trial yesterday, and today he stated that he had almost decided to let the matter go to common pleas court where it can be settled to the satisfaction of all. In the meantime, however, he is planning a pleasant surprise for the board of health by instituting proceedings against Otto Schmitzbauer. Rinehart charges that the man pollutes the river by order of the board of health, and he proposes to see how far this can be carried on. The law, he claims, which covers the throwing of dead animals in the river also speaks of night soil, and he cannot understand why Schmitzbauer is not guilty if he is convicted of the same charge. As Rinehart presents the case there is nothing but jurisdiction to cover it, as it is generally known that the Ohio river is not within the boundaries of this state.

Another interesting feature of the proposed litigation is the fact that Frank E. Grosshans, clerk of the board of health, is the attorney for Rinehart. If the case results in defeat for Schmitzbauer it will compel him to carry it to a higher court or make some arrangement with the board of health for the disposition of night soil.

SCHOOL BOARD

Meets and Transacts Business of Importance—Decided on Plaster.

The regular meeting of the board of education was held in Secretary J. M. Kelly's office last night and considerable business transacted.

The following bills were ordered paid: Books, $772.27; supplies, lumber and carpenter work, $90.89; coal, $28.32; hardware, $22.11.

Bids were presented by two firms to furnish plaster for the new school building. Adamant plaster was what one manufacturer wanted to sell the board, and Old Roman was the other article. The battle between the two was on their merits, and Old Roman won, the board having the privilege of deciding what kind of plaster should be used. The Old Roman will be used as a hard finish and some of the ordinary kind will be put on the walls of the new building. The board also decided to widen the doors between the two high school rooms, so they could be thrown open and the rooms used as one for general exercises.

Some other business of minor importance came before the board and was disposed of to the satisfaction of all present. The new school building was discussed, and the board felt satisfied with the manner in which work on the structure was progressing.

THREW A BRICK

And Hit a Brakeman—Two New Cumberland Men Arrested.

Wert Coughlin and Oliver Cohn, two young men of New Cumberland, got into trouble Saturday afternoon, and when night came it found them behind the bars in the Toronto jail.

It seems that there had been a dispute between A. G. Lewis, a brakeman on No. 87, of the river division, and the two Cumberland men during the day. Lewis was hit on the head with a brick. He caused warrants to be issued for both young men and Railroad Officer Mehan arrested them. Coughlin was charged with disorderly conduct and was found guilty by the mayor. He was fined $10 and costs. Cohn was bound over to court in the sum of $300 on a charge of assault and battery. He was taken to the Steubenville jail today.

Lewis is badly injured, the brick striking him on the jaw and breaking the bone and relieving him of several teeth. There are charges of train jumping against both the prisoners and these complaints will be pushed later.

May Have a Range.

One of the most interesting meetings the militia boys have held in months was that in their armory in city hall last night. Nearly all the members were in attendance and several matters of importance were discussed, among them being a rifle range. It was suggested that three medals be secured after a range had been established, and the best marksmen at 100, 200 and 300 yards be awarded them as prizes at an exhibition shoot. The idea of securing a medal for a prize drill was also discussed and met with favor, although such a move will be decided on subsequent to the other. Some definite action will be taken at the meeting on Friday night in the armory, at which all members are expected to be present. Every member is expected to be at the armory for drill on next Monday night, when Lieutenant. Supple will be in charge.

They Like Reverend Lee.

Doctor Lee, of Minneapolis, who preached two sermons in the First Presbyterian church in this city last Sunday, created such a favorable impression that he has won much praise from that congregation and many favor the idea of calling him here. It was rumored but one of the church officials stated today that Doctor Lee could not be looked upon in that light as far as the reverend gentleman's intentions were concerned. The opinion of many of the members of the First church is that no better selection could be made and is would not be surprising if they gave Doctor Lee a call.

A Good Report.

The annual report of the First Methodist Episcopal church shows that the finances are in excellent condition. The penny collection amounted to $1,065 and the Sunday school gave $315. For missions the church gave $504; Epworth League, $50; Sunday school, $100; and the women's society, $111. In all, benevolences were remembered to the extent of $1,667. Ministerial support cost the church $2,385, leaving a balance in the treasury of $8. A summary of the account shows that the sum used during the year was $5,132. The report is "flattering in the extreme."

Run Down by a Wheel.

As a little girl and boy started hand in hand through the Diamond last night a wheelman came close to them, and fearing for his own safety the boy began to run. The next instant he had been thrown to the ground with one foot fast in a wheel. The customary crowd gathered, suggestions were offered and the wheel was finally taken off to release the foot. He was frightened, and after remaining in a store for some time was taken home by his mother.

Both Went Wrong.

It has been currently reported for several days that a well known young man of the city and a maid, whose name has not been permitted to appear in public, have gotten themselves into a trouble which threatens to ruin the lives of both. What arrangement will be made to keep the whole scandal from becoming public property is unknown, but a wedding is expected some time in the near future.

Arranging for Dates.

The lecture course committee of the Young Men's Christian association held a meeting last night, and arrangements were made for the dates on which the events will be given. Among the most pleasing features of the course will be the extra concert given by local talent during the holidays. The committee are using their best endeavors to make it the best ever held in the city.

Gone to Conference.

Rev. J. M. Huston left today for Warren where he will attend the annual meeting of the East Ohio conference. As usual many changes will be made in the stations of ministers, but it is believed that Reverend Huston will be returned to this city as he is not only popular with the members of his congregation, but has done wonderful work in increasing the membership.

No More Reductions.

One of the most prominent manufacturing potteries in the city said yesterday that he did not believe another reduction would be offered to the operatives in this place. If they could not make ware and sell it under the present administration they would be compelled to do what they could, and when dealers did not want the product the factories would remain closed.

United For Ever.

Mr. Robert Surles and Miss Ida B. Graham were married Monday evening at the home of Rev. J. C. Taggart. Their many friends wish them happiness and prosperity.

WEARIED OF MARRIAGE

One Unfortunate Asks For a Divorce.

WILLFUL ABSENCE AND NEGLECT

The Charges Made by the Wife—They Were Married in England—An Estate Finds Its Way Into Court Through a Suit Entered by an Uncle.

New Lisbon, Sept. 17.—The family cares and trials of Mrs. Jane Chapple, of Washingtonville, which have become unendurable, were aired before the court this morning in an action for divorce from her husband, James Chapple. Married in 1880 at Meadowfield church, Eng., three children have been born to them. Willful absence and neglect, totally failing to provide even the common necessities of life for over a year, she charges against him, stating that during that time she has been compelled by her own exertions to provide for her family or live off the charity of her friends, while he was in constant receipt of good wages and able to provide for them. She wants the children given to her and be restored to her maiden name, Jane Suggett.

A suit arising from the estate of the late Jacob Monti, of this place was filed today by Dominice Monti, a nephew of the deceased, against Mary Monti, executrix of the estate. The plaintiff wants the court to deed to him a piece of ground in Center township, which is due him from this estate but which has never been put in his name. In December, 1892, at a sale under partition the deceased bought this piece of land which contains four acres, for the plaintiff, paying for it with money which he owed to him, and putting the property in his own name has had the full use and benefit of the rents and profits since. A number of times since he has demanded that this be transferred to his name, and since his death, which occurred last April, has demanded it of his executrix, which has been refused him. These parties are descendants of Italy, Jacob Monti, having died last April, leaving considerable property and a will, leaving everything to brothers in Italy after the death of his wife, the defendant. C. S. Speaker, will prosecute the case.

John Steele Sues Whisky.

Special to News Review.
New Lisbon, Sept. 18.—John Steele, a Salem man, has just been fined $25, the costs of prosecution, and given a workhouse sentence of 30 days. The crime was committed in Salem, and the case brought to the court of Judge Young for trial.

Ladies Drill.

The ladies of the drill brigade will meet at the gymnasium room of the Young Men's Christian association at 7:29 tonight, Tuesday, Sept. 18. Drill will commence at 7:30 sharp. The organization will be completed tonight, in order that skillful and complete military movements may be compassed. The costume to be worn at the October entertainment will be talked of this evening. By order
COMMANDER.

Attended the Funeral.

D. E. Troup, J. Solen, C. Meek, S. Southwood, V. Barkley, L. Bath and L. Rowe, all residents of East Palestine and employed in the pottery there, were here yesterday attending the funeral of William Rheinheimer, who was killed at Beaver Falls Saturday night.

After Many Years.

George Christy, a former resident of East Liverpool in 1846, visited this city yesterday. He did not know the city he left about 1850, and found only one man, Jethro Manley, who he knew at that time. Mr. Christy is a flourishing farmer in northwestern Illinois.

Inspector Love in Town.

Mine Inspector Tom Love was in town today, the first time since he was summoned here by the accident at the mine on the Lisbon road. He is here on his regular trip, and no special significance is attached to his presence in the city.

Coopers on a Strike.

The coopers employed at Williams' struck yesterday against a reduction of five per cent. Ten men are affected, and it is thought that matters will be so arranged as to have the place again in operation.

Making Repairs.

A force of men are at work on the Irondale mill making repairs. An addition is being constructed, and the machinery overhauled.

The Trades and Labor Council of East
Liverpool, in full session assembled, warmly advocates the News Review as the only paper in this City of East Liverpool employing union labor exclusively, and advocating the cause of legitimately and legally organized labor.

The News Review believes in fair play—
justice to workmen and employers alike—
and will stand or fall on this platform.
Fair play is a jewel of unimpaired and undimmed lustre, and all citizens will receive fair play in these columns.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., TUESDAY, SEPT. 18.

SOME farmers in this county who have wool for sale would like to have a few Democratic editors who are asserting that prices have gone to the 20 and 25 cent mark buy their clip.
They will gladly make the bargain.

The two Democrats who represent
New Orleans in congress will lose their positions in November if indications point for anything. The people down there never did like the Republican party until their Democratic friends ruined the sugar industry.
Then they began to realize that the glitter is not always from gold, and the flop of the planters and their friends is said to be complete.

SOME HARMONY.

If the Democrats of the Eighteenth district expect to make a showing in November they must bring the shattered remnants of the party together, and endeavor to reconcile the forces of reform to the doctrine taught by the Brice men. The convention yesterday showed that each side is determined,
and while there were enough Cleveland men to carry the condemnation of Senator Brice to victory, there was a smile on the earnest countenance of Billy Maline and a few others which does not promise a united effort at the coming election. The letter of Thomp Burton is another indication of no mean power, and as such was generally recognized by Democrats regardless of how they view the tariff policy of Ohio's junior senator. If Mr.
Raff would make any attempt to win
he must rush to Mahoning county and start a flow of milk of human kindness, or there will be a few prominent factors lacking next election day.

WANTED—ENTHUSIASM.

There is a visible lack of enthusiasm
among the Democrats who are expected to support their party's nominations, and unless something is quickly done to bring about some sort of party feeling, the vote in November will even be smaller than is warranted
by the absurd actions of the late session of congress. As a rule Democrats are ashamed of their party. They seem to have little interest in what is going on. Some talk a little, but it is noticeable that men who have always been firm supporters of everything the leaders suggested are now still and silent. Realizing that the party's representation has already cost the country millions in money and suffering, the extent of which will never be known, they have either forsaken the principles expounded by Cleveland forever or propose to remain silent, and watch the natural trend of events without becoming directly interested. This feeling seems to have spread through all parts of the country, and smiles are not found by the barrel at Democratic headquarters in Washington.

COXEY'S DOOM.

The erstwhile commonwealer, Mr.
Coxey, is proving more of a failure in his campaign than he did in his march to Washington. The opening at Massillon a week ago was a failure,
and the meetings held at small towns in Stark county failed to attract the vast audiences Coxey has been promising. At Alliance only a corporal's guard heard him speak, and his address was even worse than the usual consignment of tirades. Coxey is rapidly finding his level, and the good people of the district who have sensible views are placing him where he belongs, among the demagogues who have ever proved a failure in this country. Behind him there is nothing tangible, and while abuse will attract a few for a time it is no argument, and can not maintain a following. It is not denied that he will have votes. Any man can get a few people to stand with him; but these will be such a small number that he stands no more chance today of representing the Eighteenth district in congress than he does of marching through the pearly gates because he once lead the commonwealer.

SILVER TONGUE STIFF.

Breckinridge's Eloquence a Memory Henceforth.

OWENS SAFE FROM A CONTEST.

Two Breckinridge Committeemen Refuse
to Go Behind the Returns—County Democratic Candidates Not Disposed to Do Anything Against Owens.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 18.—Everything is quiet here, the nomination of Owens being conceded. The last few days, however, have been more exciting than any of the preceding week. When the Owens men claimed the nomination
by a decisive plurality Saturday night,
the Breckinridge men stood pat. They worked harder than ever. It became known that their representatives had been dispatched into the different parts of the district to get all the evidence with a view of contesting the nomination before the Democratic congressional district committee, which meets at Frankfort next Saturday, and which is the returning board that makes the official count and declaration as to who is the nominee. This committee is composed of one member from each county.
Fayette county, the home of Breckinridge, has two legislative districts, and hence has two members of this committee, each of the other seven counties
having one.

The member of the state Democratic committee for the Seventh district is the tenth member of the committee which was known to stand six for Breckinridge and four for anti-Breckinridge. As this committee has done everything it its power for Breckinridge
in fixing a late date for the primaries, adopting the challenge rule and everything else he wanted, the Owens men were alarmed on finding out that the Breckinridge agents were at work with a view to presenting evidence for a contest before this committee next Saturday. They learned of letters sent to the committee and of the agents at work in different counties, working up the case,
and believed there was a well-planned purpose to throw out the vote of certain precincts on the ground of irregularities
and declare Breckinridge the nominee.

It was promptly announced that four members of the district committee would make a majority report Saturday and appeal to the Democrats. This meant that Owens and Breckinridge would both be candidates and fight to a finish
in November. Meantime the Republicans who held their convention here in Sept. 30, began to regard their unnamed nominee as the favorite and there was much excitement.

However the tide was turned when B.
J. Welsh, the committeeman from Breckinridge's home and one of his strongest supporters announced that he would never vote to go behind the returns when the committee met at Frankfort. As this would leave the committee a tie or five to five in any event, and as other Breckinridge men on the district committee who had stood by him to the last were not disposed to go behind the returns, the old guard of the silver-tongued orator gave up the struggle. They will not, however, concede the plurality of 526 which the Owens men claim from complete returns.

Among Breckinridge's strongest friends are the nominees here on the county ticket and they, as well as other county candidates, were not disposed to hazard their interests by assisting in throwing out any of the Owens precincts at Frankfort next Saturday. It is not likely that there will be any more agitation. Colonel Breckinridge will serve till next March.

The county Democratic committee has finished canvassing the returns. The official vote is: Owens, 1,328; Breckinridge, 1,002; Settle, 287. Owens' plurality, 526.

Breckinridge May Contest.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Sept. 18.—Breckinridge has made public a statement in which he says he secured a majority of the legal Democratic votes of the district and that fraud was practiced against him in several counties. According to this it looks as if he would contest.

Bridget Dalton's Will Stands.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 18.—The will of the late Bridget Dalton has been admitted to probate. She left an estate valued at $100,000 and divided a portion of it among her relatives. This amount was about $25,000. Then she left $25,000 to be divided between St. John's church and the Home for the Aged of the Little Sisters of the Poor and the Catholic Orphan asylum. She left the residue of the estate, amounting to $50,000, to Bishop McDonnell. Some of her relatives contested the will, claiming that the bishop and sisters exercised undue influence over her. These objections were withdrawn.

Kentucky Patriots Congratulated.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The National Christian League for the Promotion of Social Purity, of which Mrs. Elizabeth
B. Grannis is president, have adopted resolutions expressing gratitude "to those Kentucky women and men who have so nobly worked and earnestly prayed to defeat the candidacy of W. C.
P. Breckinridge and congratulating them on the success that crowns their patriotism and makes it a blessing to the whole land."

Old Battlefields Returned.

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—Governor Green-halge has received from Washington the battlefields of the Fifteenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-third and Fifth regiments of Massachusetts regiments, captured on southern battlefields, which have been retained at the capital for many years.

Seannell Contempt Case Postponed.

OMAHA, Sept. 18.—The case of contempt against Bishop Seannell for refusing to obey a district court injunction came up and was continued one month to enable the prelate to secure more evidence.

Raff Named For Congress.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18.—The Democrats of the Eighteenth Ohio district, at Alliance, have nominated Edward J. Raff of Canton for congress.

WILL NAME MORTON.

The State Likely to Go Through at the New York Convention Today.

SARATOGA, Sept. 18.—The Republican state convention is in session here today.
The ticket is almost sure to read like this:

For governor, Levi P. Morton; for lieutenant governor, Francis Hendricks;
for judge of the court of appeals,
Albert S. Haight.

The tide has changed so much in Hendricks' favor that there seems to be but little doubt that he will be nominated.
As to Mr. Morton's chances, the sentiment seems not a bit changed by the active strife for lieutenant governor and Mr. Platt, who is himself manager for the Morton boom, is perfectly confident and smiling. He said:

"The arrival of many delegations has only served to strengthen the cause of Morton. Many of the leaders of delegations not instructed for Mr. Morton have been here and assured me of their support."

Asked if he had any preference for lieutenant governor, he said:

"I have none and will not interfere with it in any way."

There is not much jubilation in Mr.
Fussett's quarters, although he is still a candidate for governor and will be placed in nomination before the convention.

FATAL FACTORY FIRE.

A Mattress Plant Destroyed at the Nation's Capital.

FIVE BODIES AT THE MORGUE.

Three Men at the Emergency Hospital, One of Whom Will Die—Others Thought to Be Buried in the Ruins—A Fearful Panic—Property Loss $50,000.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The most fatal fire of recent years in Washington was the burning of the mattress factory of Stump & Brother.

Five bodies are at the morgue charred and crushed beyond recognition, four injured men are at the Emergency hospital, one of whom will die, and there may be others buried under the ruins, as several of the workmen are unaccounted for.

Two of the dead at the morgue are now known to be William H. Tenney, an old man employed in the factory, and Willie Ashe, a boy of 13 years. James E. Vaughn, who was taken to the Emergency hospital, has since died. Four others who are missing are Henry Fowler, Phillip Ackerman, Robert Betzel and an old man who had been employed in the factory but a few days and whose name is not remembered by his employer.

Those at the hospital are: A. J. Hasko, both legs broken, may die; Arthur C. Bevin, internal injuries and fractured wrist; Harry Bacon, internal injuries.

The factory, which is owned by Claude X. and Edward B. Stump, stood at the intersection of Seventh and K streets and Massachusetts avenue, a five-story structure with thin brick walls, windows only at back and front and no fire escape. It was stored with feathers, shavings and other inflammable materials and 25 persons were at work in it, six of whom were young women.

The fire was discovered in the packing room at the front of the second floor. Almost before the alarm could be given to the workmen it had spread through the second story and burst up the elevator shaft. There was delay in turning in an alarm on account of the panic.

The escape of those on the upper floors was cut off and they stood in the windows shouting for help while hundreds on the streets, unable to give them assistance, yelled for them to wait for the hook and ladder. Three men were on the roof, two of them gesticulating frantically while the other leaned calmly against a chimney waiting. Policeman Phil Brown found a ladder, and with the help of two stalwart men dragged a mattress to the roof of a blacksmith shop beneath the eaves of the factory.

While these preparations were under way Hasko jumped from the roof, whirling over and over in the air and striking on his side. Bevin jumped to the roof and was caught on the mattress held by Policemen Brown and others. Vaughn leaped headlong, so that in the force of his fall he tore through the mattress as though it had been a blanket. Bacon jumped from a third-story window and landed on his stomach across a barrel 25 feet below. Other men clung to narrow projections outside the windows until a pile of mattresses had been heaped on the sidewalk and jumped off without sustaining severe injuries.

Twenty minutes after the fire had been discovered, the east wall fell crushing the blacksmith shop, Palmer's oyster-house and the Horse and Cattle Feed company's building. A cloud of burning feathers rose 30 feet over the building and drifting down, set fire to several awnings in front of Seventh street stores, making lively work for volunteer firemen with waterpails. Shortly afterwards the other walls tottered and came down crushing the two-story brick building of the Woodruff File Holder company, George J. Bennett's marble shop and Hall and Cammack's furniture store, a fine building.

One fireman and several spectators were hurt by falling bricks.

The cause of the fire is unknown. The factory building was valued at $15,000, and its contents at $25,000.

Fifteen thousand dollars insurance was carried in several local companies. The adjoining buildings which were crushed were of small value so that $20,000 will probably cover the damage to them.

Masses and Prayers For Rain.
WOODSOMER, R. I., Sept. 18.—A water famine threatens this city. There is but one source of supply and not only has that become so low that the authorities have warned residents to use it sparingly, but it has become impregnated with disease germs and several cases of typhoid fever have been traced to it. Two of the French Catholic churches have held special masses and offered up prayers for rain.

HARMONY WILL PREVAIL.

Everything Indicates It For the Ohio Democratic Convention Tomorrow.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 18.—The preliminary proceedings of the Democratic state convention are taking place this afternoon and the convention proper will be held tomorrow. Frank Hurd of Toledo, who is to be temporary chairman of the convention, is here and has a speech counseling harmony. There is a disposition to make him also permanent chairman, but he is not favorable to the move. Congressman Johnson of Cleveland is also mentioned for permanent chairman of the convention.

Chairman Critch of the state committee, Walter B. Ritchie of Lima, who represents the interests of Senator Brice, Collector Dowling of the Cincinnati district, who is looking after the administration interests, and several of the Democratic editors of the state who have been writing about the administration and Senator Price are here to get an advance view of the situation. Dowling states that the convention will be a success unless an effort is made to criticize Cleveland and the administration, but if this is done the feeling existing against Senator Brice and his course in the senate will be ventilated. There are no avowed candidates for places on the ticket. The real inside sentiment among Democrats already here indicates the convention will be harmonious.

Operators Prepared For War.

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18.—The coal operators of the Massillon district held a secret meeting at the Weddell House at which every mine in the district was represented. The meeting was called to hear the reports of committees appointed to secure miners and to make final preparations for breaking the long strike. It is understood that a large number of colored miners will be brought in from West Virginia immediately and put to work in the strikers' places. A strong guard under command of a Cleveland military man has been secured to protect the new men. In case of trouble, which seems quite probable, the Fifth regiment of this city will be sent to the scene on a special train. The operators decline to name the day on which the mines will be opened but it will undoubtedly be this week.

Columbus a Regimental Post.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The army orders issued by Secretary Lamont provide for the abandonment of a number of posts and concentration of troops near large cities, many coming east from the west. The three recruiting posts, David's Island, Columbus barracks and Jefferson barracks, are discontinued and the orders provide big garrisons for the old recruiting depots. As soon as some changes are made in the quarters at Jefferson barracks and Columbus barracks, the two troops of cavalry now ordered to the former will be joined by four other troops, and the remainder of the Seventeenth infantry will be sent to Columbus barracks, making the latter a regimental post.

TOTAL NUMBER KILLED 2,300.

Remainder of the 16,000 Chinese Either Wounded or Held as Prisoners—Japs Pushing Northward to Keep Another Army Out of Korea.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—A dispatch received here gives further details of the capture of Ding Yang by the Japanese forces. After the place fell into the hands of the Japanese, strong parties of infantry and cavalry were assigned to the duty of patrolling the town. A search was made of the houses for Chinese soldiers and many were found and taken prisoners.

When the Japanese troops made their final assault several thousand of the Chinese defenders threw down their arms and fled panic-stricken to the valley northward. The Japanese, however, controlled the entrance to the valley and the fleeing Chinese found their retreat in this direction cut off. Whole regiments seeking to escape from the victorious army were thus compelled to surrender.

It is now stated that the total number of killed will not exceed 2,300. The remainder of the Chinese army, some 16,000 men, are either wounded and in the hands of the Japanese or are unhurt prisoners of war.

The emperor of Japan has telegraphed congratulations to the field marshal upon the victory he has achieved over the enemy. The field marshal has issued an order in which he commends the troops for their action.

The dispatch adds that the Japanese outnumbered the Chinese three to one. Their artillery was vastly superior to that of the Chinese.

The Japanese flying column is now pushing northward for the purpose of securing the passes and thus prevent another Chinese army from marching into Korea.

A proclamation has been issued promising protection to the Koreans as long as they refrain from acts of hostility toward the Japanese.

LOCAL BREVITIES

Ed Cook has secured work with a contractor in San Antonio, Tex., and left this morning for that city.

The household goods of Freeman Beebout, foreman at the Patterson machine shops, arrived this morning from Pittsburgh.

Knowles & Owen have brought suit in Squire Rose's court against John Rinehart for $10. The case will be tried on Thursday morning at 8 o'clock.

J. J. Allison and Anderson brothers have finally succeeded in settling their legal troubles and the advertised constable's sale of Allison's teaming outfit will not take place.

Word from Dan Swartz and Jesse Carey, who are making a tour a la freight car, states that they are now in Kokomo, Ind., and expect to reach Peoria during the latter part of this week.

The Cleveland bum who fell into the police net while in a hilarious condition Sunday night was compelled to clean up city hall in lieu of no cash with which to pay his fine, and was released. He got out of town immediately.

Harry Holtzman, who has been in Pittsburgh for some time, and was more recently with the family of Henry Brunt, left this morning for St. Louis, Mo., to enter college. Frank A. Holtzman, his father, is a resident of St. Louis.

Through the efforts of Rev. C. W. Huffer, of the Christian church, a mission school is being established at Irondale, and Reverend Smith, of that place, is in charge. Reverend Huffer went to Irondale this morning to look over the matter.

Constable Dick Albright and wife have returned from Moultrie where they were called by the dangerous illness of Charles Cole, well known in this city. Mr. Cole's condition is still critical and his death is thought to be a matter of only a few days at the most.

The Joseph Walters replevin case was to have been tried before Squire Rose yesterday but was continued until Friday owing to the parties most concerned not being ready to proceed and deciding that a jury would be necessary to render a decision in the case. A jury will probably be struck today.

The fire extinguisher representatives who have been here for some time left this morning for Akron where they put their apparatus in the establishment of the Warner company. They expect to return here soon and supply the Dresden and Thompson potteries with the new style of fighting fire.

A number of Neil Kitchell's friends were entertained by that popular young gentleman at his home on Fifth street last night, and all spent the evening in the most enjoyable manner imaginable. Amusements of all sorts were fitly accompanied by dainty refreshments and the guests did not leave the scene of pleasure until a late hour.

Joseph Winters and James Dixon engaged in an encounter in California hollow Saturday, and yesterday Dixon preferred a charge of assault and battery against Winters. Constable Lyons arrested the defendant and upon pleading guilty Squire Rose gave him the minimum fine, $1 and costs, $5.60 in all. He paid the amount and was released.

It is rumored that a prize fight took place Saturday night just opposite Wellsville, but who the principals were, the purse offered, or how the mill terminated, are matters mysterious and the News Review informant was unable to learn. It is known that a Wellsville man has been looking for a fight for several weeks, and he was probably accommodated.

Kelley Huntsman, charged with assault and battery and picking pockets, the outcome of the holding up of Leith Young, is still in jail today, but if the witnesses in the case can be summoned in time the trial will be held in council chamber this afternoon. Dick Jackson is thought to have skipped the town, at least he cannot now be found by the police.

Somebody in West End is liable to get into trouble unless certain actions in that section are ceased or the parties move to less civilized quarters. The disgraceful scenes enacted are the talk of the neighborhood and residents in that vicinity have become so tired of it that they have laid the matter before the authorities with a strong protest against any further continuance.

At the meeting tomorrow evening the Heptasophs will ballot on two candidates, and the Rechabites took in two last night and gave four the second degree. All the secret orders in the city are growing, some by re-instating members who were compelled to give it up because of the hard times, and others because they are taking in new members. At the present rate of growth the city will not be long in assuming its old time standing as the greatest secret society town for its population in the state.

The state commander writes us from Lincoln, Neb., as follows: "After trying other medicines for what seemed to be a very obstinate cough in our two children we tried Dr. King's New Discovery and at the end of two days the cough entirely left them. We will not be without it hereafter, as our experience prove that it cures where all other remedies fail."—Signed F. W. While in Chicago, Mr. Charles L. Kahler, a prominent shoe merchant of Des Moines, Iowa, had quite a serious time of it. He took such a severe cold that he could hardly talk or navigate, but the prompt use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured him of his cold so quickly that others at the hotel who had bad colds followed his example and half a dozen persons ordered it from the nearest drug store. They were profuse in their thanks to Mr. Kahler for telling them how to cure a bad cold so quickly. For sale by A. H. Bulger, Druggist.

BECOME REPUBLICANS.

Sugar Planters' Proposed Bolt Goes Through In Louisiana.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18.—The Sugar Planters' convention was a very large and enthusiastic assemblage. There were present not only the leading planters of Louisiana, but some of the most representative men of New Orleans. The bolters from the Democracy had things their own way and resistance to the programme was but feebly made. The convention went over to the national Republican party in a body.

The resolutions endorse the platform of the meeting in this city; express belief in the doctrine of protection to all American industries; declare that the people had never asked congress for a bounty, but that when the bounty law was passed it was regarded as a pledge for 15 years, and caused the mortgaging of plantations and expenditure of immense sums of money in the purchase of modern machinery and in making elaborate improvements for the manufacture of sugar; urge the organization of clubs, committees and conventions throughout the state with a view to electing members of congress who will stand by the national Republican party in the organization of the league party and finally declaring that the causes which have led to the inauguration of this movement are of a financial and industrial nature, and that the character and standing of its leaders are a sufficient guarantee that that party will ever advocate good government for the whole people of the state. The president is directed to appoint a committee of 35 with the full powers of the convention to be known as the state committee of the national Republican party.

NOT UNTIL JANUARY.

The Woolen Goods Tariff Schedule Not In Effect Yet.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—The board of general appraisers, in an opinion drawn by United States General Appraiser T. S. Sharretts of Baltimore and sent to Collector Kilbreth of the port of New York, holds that schedule "K" of the new tariff act does not go into effect as to the articles therein provided for until Jan. 1, 1895, but that all fabrics manufactured from wool, worsted, the hair of the camel, goat, alpaca or other animals is dutiable under the McKinley act until that date. This is in accordance with the provisions of the woolen goods schedule, and the deferring of the date was made in order that the trade could adapt itself to the change.

John Newell's Estate.

CHICAGO, Sept. 18.—A petition for letters testamentary filed in the probate court in the estate of John Newell contains the closest estimates of the property of the late president of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern road that has yet been made public. It places the value of the real property at $100,000, and the personal estate is estimated to be worth $150,000.

Terrible Tornado In Oklahoma.

PERRY, O. T., Sept. 18.—A terrible tornado passed through Jennings and Mining and blew 50 houses to atoms. A young lady and two children were killed and several people injured. Several houses caught fire at Mining and a conflagration followed.
